Want to volunteer?

Volunteering can be a great way to maintain your own mental health while supporting the wellbeing of others. Boost your mood, try something new, connect with others, learn new skills and build practical experience. Volunteering builds pride, confidence, identity, belonging and self-worth.

- + Search for volunteering opportunities at www.volunteerglasgow.org/volunteer/search
- + Create your own online account and join new opportunities or access contact details for organisations providing opportunities.
- + Need further guidance? We offer 1-1 telephone appointments or via Zoom or WhatsApp video call. Contact us now to arrange an informal chat.
- + Are you working with individuals or groups who might benefit from volunteering? Contact us to find out more about our Volunteering Toolkit - designed to empower you to better support your service users to access volunteering.
- + New! Our Networking Events have been created especially to support organisations that work with individuals and groups who might benefit from volunteering.
- + Do you have an interest or specific skills or experience you would like to share? Can't find a suitable volunteering role on our website? Let us know and we will promote you to hundreds of volunteer-involving organisations as a Special Offer Volunteer!
- + Are you a public or private sector organisation that would like to offer your time to volunteer as a part of a team for a one-off event activity? Contact us for more information and to register your Team Offer.
- + Aged 12-25 and volunteering? You can claim Saltire Awards for your contributions. Contact us to find out more about the nationally recognised scheme celebrating young volunteers.
